PERITONITIS SETS IN AS RESULT OF BULLET WOUND AND WM. ADAMS DIES

FUNERAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY AT 1:30

To be Conducted by C. E. Frontz—Buried in Monongahela Cemetery—Deceased Spent Almost Lifetime in Glass Business and was Recognized as Capable and Efficient Man.

From peritonitis, occasioned by the bullet wound in the intestines, William Adams, superintendent of the Charleroi plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, died last evening at shortly after 7 o'clock at his home, 531 Washington avenue. The funeral will be held on Sunday, afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the late residence, conducted by Rev. C. E. Frontz, of Christ Lutheran church. The Charleroi Order of Elks will attend in a body. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Since Thursday morning when Mr. Adams was shot by Thomas Kinney, who is now in jail at Washington, he has been in a critical condition. An operation was performed on Thursday at about noon by Dr. L. W. Swope, of Pittsburgh and Drs. J. B. Barth and Edwin McKay. This failed to stop the intestinal discharge through the wound, thus inciting peritonitis.

Mr. Adams was 47 years and 10 months of age. He was born in Southside, Pittsburg, and attended school there until he was 18 years of age. Then he began employment in the glass manufactory of Thomas Evans as a packer. Later he was promoted to foreman, and from that went to the position of superintendent of the Marion plant at Marion, Ind. Eight years ago he was transferred to Charleroi, where he was appointed assistant superintendent under James Schnellbach, Sr. Upon Mr. Schnellbach's death, Mr. Adams was given charge of the factory and has been the superintendent ever since. He was recognized as a capable and efficient man of high executive ability and was highly trusted by his employers.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Adams, one daughter, Mrs. James Schnellbach, his mother, Mrs. Mary Adams of Knoxville, three sisters, Miss Margaret Adams, of Knoxville, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, of Carrick, Mrs. Rachel Getty of Pittsburgh and four brothers, James Adams, of Pittsburgh, Samuel Adams of Savannah, Ga., Hugh Adams of Charleroi and John Adams of Knoxville. The deceased was a member of the Marion Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, and a member of the Charleroi Turn Verein.

The Macbeth-Evans plant here out of respect closed today at noon and will remain closed until Monday. Macbeth Evans workers will have charge of the funeral and the pall bearers will be six department managers, A. H. Bosson, W. S. James, W. D. Pollock, W. A. Mikach, Joseph Hockendown and H. A. Heupel. The guard of honor will consist of Macbeth foremen.

The body will be taken to Monongahela by hearse and carriages will be provided for the immediate relatives and friends. Persons who wish

PHYSICIANS WILL BE REQUESTED TO BE MORE CAREFUL IN REPORTING CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Board of Health Will Not Permit Any Dereliction in Matter Hereafter, But Will Call in State Aid

The Board of Health last night at a meeting took up a case of where a physician had failed to report a case of contagious disease to the board so that the place might be quarantined. Action was taken to the effect that all physicians be notified to promptly inform the health board, when they have contagious diseases under their care and in case of any dereliction in this respect Dr. Dixon, State Health Commissioner will be informed and action taken.

Health Officer Darby made his report. In the town there are the following cases of contagious diseases: Scarlet fever, 5; diphtheria, 4; chicken pox, 6; and typhoid fever 7. Complaints received and nuisances abated, 85.

ELKS WILL HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES

Congressman Cole of Ohio Will be the Chief Speaker

Congressman Ralph Cole will be the chief speaker at the Elks' Memorial service Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Coyle Theatre. There will be special music furnished by the Elks' Chorus, under Prof. Daniels. The memorial service will doubtless be more than unusually sad on account of the death of William Adams. While he did not belong to this lodge he was intimately connected with members here.

Jesse E. Hopton, 39 years old, died at his home at Speers Thursday of tuberculosis, from which he had been a sufferer for four years. He is survived by his wife and five children, the eldest a boy of 12. The funeral was held at 9 a. m. this morning in the Speers M. E. church, Rev. H. E. Lewis officiating, assisted by Rev. W. F. Seiter, a former pastor. The body was taken on the 11 a. m. train to Gray's Landing for burial. Mr. Hopton was one of Speers' most respected citizens, and had served on the council and the school board and had been a trustee of the M. E. church and superintendent of the Sunday school.

Working on Lock.

Work is being continued on another section of the double concrete lock, being constructed at Brownsville. The employees of the War Department are at work now on the power house. This will be constructed entirely of concrete. The work of putting on the large high gates was finished last week.

to go to the cemetery may leave on the 2:45 car or the 2:42 train.

Deputy Coroner M. T. Crowley has arranged for a coroner's inquest to be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at his office. A jury will be called, and all witnesses heard. In all probability the verdict will be to hold Kinney.

Mr. Adams made a verbal statement on Thursday before the operation in the presence of Burgess George W. Risbeck, County Detective McCleary, Chief of Police Albright, Dr. Edwin McKay, Dr. L. W. Swope, and Dr. J. B. Barth. He said that he did not know of any grudge held against him by Kinney.

DID NOT SAY HE WOULD RETIRE

"Bill" Phillips, Veteran Player Has Not Considered Any Offer

"Bill" Phillips, last year manager of the Wheeling team of the Central League team, has branded as unfounded the report that he will retire from baseball. The report was circulated no doubt in Wheeling. The Wheeling club has been negotiating with Phillips relative to managing next year's team, but he has not given any definite answer and in reality has not thought much of the matter. The reason assigned for his retirement in the report was the poor condition of his wife's health.

Mr. Phillips stated yesterday afternoon that while his wife's health was poor, it has been so for some years, and if there was no change for the worse he expected to be in baseball for some years yet. He said that he would not consider any propositions for managing or playing with any team until the first of the year, but as far as Wheeling was concerned he would just as willingly sign with them as any other team offering like conditions.

The Wheeling people are hot after Phillips because of the fact that last year he landed them the pennant in the Central league.

WILL HOLD SPECIAL SERVICE FOR MEN

Special men's services will be held Sunday afternoon by Evangelists Hendrick and Carter at the Washington avenue church at 3 o'clock. Dr. Hendrick will preach on the topic, "The Manhood That Wins," and Mr. Carter will have charge of the song service. Special music will be furnished by a Male Chorus, and the Washington Avenue Male Quartet.

"Out in Idaho."

With a cast entirely adequate to the requirements of the play, headed by Miss Robison who assumes the role of "Little Bess," Frederick N. Brush's production of "Out in Idaho" is to be seen at the Coyle Theatre this afternoon and evening and Miss Robison's work in character study for several seasons past has given her a unique position in the theatrical world, having appeared in such pieces as "Pretty Peggy," "The Girl from the Golden West," "The Girl from the Emerald Isle," "Way Down East" etc, but as "Little Bess" in "Out in Idaho" she has a part which gives her remarkable opportunity for the display of her splendid talents.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who showed so many kindnesses and who so generously extended their sympathy during the sickness and death of our daughter, Mrs. Flora Hazel Fram.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reeves of Fellowship avenue spent yesterday in Greene county, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Vance, near Carmichaels.

EVANGELIST THINKS WE LACK EARNESTNESS

Evangelist Hendrick preached on the subject, "God's Call to Service," at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church last night, being listened to by the largest crowd that has yet been present at the service. Mr. Carter conducted an interesting song service. In his sermon, Dr. Hendrick said that Paul's Macedonian call was the result of Paul's earnestness in prayer, and desire to help. He emphasized the fact if we were all so much in earnest for saving lost souls, we could not keep from helping.

Several members of the Little Redstone Presbyterian church, where Evangelist Hendrick and Carter were recently, were here to attend last night's service.

JUNIOR LEAGUE HOLDS A BANQUET

The Junior League of the Methodist Episcopal church last night held a reception and banquet in the Sunday School rooms for the members of the league. There were about 85 present. Miss Florence Grill, the superintendent of the league, had charge of the affair, and the children were provided an enjoyable evening. Games of a various nature were played. The little folks before adjournment joined in the singing of several hymns. They were served refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy.

Big Crowds Attend.

Large crowds of eager buyers have been in attendance at the rummage sale held by the ladies of the First Christian church in the Eldora building on Fallowfield avenue, next to the lockup. Before the opening yesterday people were lined up at the doors, and several times since more help had to be secured. Many families have taken advantage of the sale to lay in a winter's supply of seasonable garments, and a big sale is anticipated this evening.

BROWNSVILLE TO BECOME COKE CENTER

Big Developments Promised for Old Town by 1911.

It is stated that by the first of 1911 in the neighborhood of 3,000 coke ovens, will be in operation in the vicinity of Brownsville. There will probably be needed for these 20,000 men. Brownsville is anticipating great industrial developments within the next year. Already it boasts of being quite a railroad center, and is the location of the main offices of the Monongahela Railroad, which although one of the smallest roads in the country, handles more traffic than roads many times as large.

Not Informed This Morning of Superintendent Adams' Death

SON HAS SCARLET FEVER

Charge of Murder Not Preferred Against Man Who Inflicted Fatal Wounds

According to information received from Washington this morning it is feared that Thomas L. Kinney, the man who shot and fatally wounded William Adams, will lose his mind. Kinney is now in jail, and it is said, nearing a nervous breakdown. He has not been informed of Mr. Adams' death yet, but will come today. It is feared that he will become completely unbalanced at this time.

District Attorney Acheson this morning said that he would not enter any formal charge of murder against Kinney today but that the case would probably reach the grand jury through the coroner's inquest.

Mr. Kinney's 6-year-old son at Donora is afflicted with scarlet fever.

Mahomett Can't Go.

So far as vehicle traffic from Charleroi with the up-river district is concerned, conditions are similar to those in the ancient joke about a fence not being needed around a cemetery: Those who are in can't get out, and those who are out don't want to get in. The only difference is that those who are out and want to drive into Charleroi can't get in, while those who are in are here to stay fast enough.

The statement of a Charleroi councilman that some attention should be paid to getting out of Charleroi as well as getting people in to trade calls attention to one of the vital needs of the town. While some lines of business are confined exclusively to the town, others are capable of expansion if delivery and soliciting wagons can be operated in the adjacent territory. The upriver district is a most fertile field for extending the many branches of trade from Charleroi, but the condition of the roads precludes its profitable operation, and much business is thus lost to the town. It is therefore a case of Mahomett not being able to go to the mountain.

One of the Perils.

In the death of William Adams, superintendent of the Macbeth-Edwards Glass factory, is demonstrated one of the perils of modern industry. Shot down in the prime of vigorous and useful manhood by a former employee because, so far as known, of fancied grievances, Mr. Adams sacrificed his life in his devotion to duty. Like all captains of industry he was obliged to maintain a strict discipline with the large force of employees he directed, and in doing so, without the exercise of partiality so far as lay in his power, it was inevitable that he should incur the personal enmity of some. This is one of the responsibilities and risks that every large director of men must face, and that it is a daily menace is shown in this deplorable case.

No one knew this better than Mr. Adams who, with every large employer of labor, must accept this peril. That he bore no malice to the man who so foully murdered him is evidenced by his personal friendship for the latter in social circles. Like all successful captains of industry he did not carry his business affairs into his private life, and was consequently unprepared for the fate that overtook him at that particular time, although always aware that it was imminent. That he calmly accepted these perils is evidenced of his capability and courage.

Mr. Adams was one of thousands who daily risk their lives in the discharge of duty. That he was capable, efficient and courageous is attested by the position he held and maintained for years. His untimely death is a distinct loss in the world of achievement, as well as a deep sorrow to his family and friends.

Save the Coal.

That the coal operators of this section are alive to the necessity of the conservation of their supply is evidenced by the movement on foot to prevent the great waste in mining that is annually experienced. Competent engineers estimate that in mining 400,000,000 tons in 1908 the enormous amount of 250,000,000 tons was wasted and can never be recovered.

This waste, it is claimed, is due to the insufficient means of transportation and distribution. There are always rush periods in the demand for coal at certain seasons of the year, and never enough available cars on the railroads to furnish transportation. To meet these intermittent demands more mines are opened and operated than are necessary to supply the same amount of coal if the demand were steady the year around. This rush entails wasteful and hurried methods that could be avoided if all the operators could work together and take care of the demand to the best advantage. To this end application will be made to President Taft to aid a scheme to enable the operators to regulate the production. This is entirely in the interests of conserving the coal supply of the country, at which is being abnormally wasted in the unbusiness like methods of production at the present time. It is a project that deserves attention.

No Time For Retreat.

In an Irish garrison town a theatrical company was giving performances, and some soldiers from the local barracks were engaged to act as superns. Their duties included the waging of a fierce fight in which, after a stirring struggle, one army was defeated on a given signal from the prompter. For a few nights all went well, but on the Friday evening a special performance of the piece was to be given under the patronage of the colonel and other officers of the garrison. The two armies met as usual at the end of the second act, when they fought and fought and kept on fighting, regardless of the agonized glare in the eye of their (actor) general, who bawled ordered the proper army to "Retreat, confound you." But the fight still went on, and soon the horrified manager saw the wrong army being driven slowly off the stage, still fighting desperately. Down came the curtain amid roars of laughter, and the fuming manager hastened to ask the delinquents why they had failed to retreat on hearing the signal. "Retraite," roared a burly fusticer whose visage had been badly battered, "and is it retraite ye'd have us, wid the colonel and all the officers in the boxes?"—London Scraps.

PERITONITIS SETS IN AS RESULT OF BULLET WOUND AND WM. ADAMS DIES

FUNERAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY AT 1:30

To be Conducted by C. E. Frontz--Buried in Monongahela Cemetery--Deceased Spent Almost Lifetime in Glass Business and was Recognized as Capable and Efficient Man.

From peritonitis, occasioned by the bullet wound in the intestines, William Adams, superintendent of the Charleroi plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, died last evening at shortly after 7 o'clock at his home, 531 Washington avenue. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the late residence, conducted by Rev. C. E. Frontz, of Christ Lutheran church. The Charleroi Order of Elks will attend in a body. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Since Thursday morning when Mr. Adams was shot by Thomas Kinney, who is now in jail at Washington, he has been in a critical condition. An operation was performed on Thursday at about noon by Dr. L. W. Swope, of Pittsburgh and Drs. J. B. Barth and Edwin McKay. This failed to stop the intestinal discharge through the wound, thus inclining peritonitis.

Mr. Adams was 47 years and 10 months of age. He was born in Southside, Pittsburg, and attended school there until he was 18 years of age. Then he began employment in the glass manufactory of Thomas Evans, as a packer. Later he was promoted to foreman, and from that went to the position of superintendent of the Marion plant at Marion, Ind. Eight years ago he was transferred to Charleroi, where he was appointed assistant superintendent under James Schnellbach, Sr. Upon Mr. Schnellbach's death, Mr. Adams was given charge of the factory and has been the superintendent ever since. He was recognized as a capable and efficient man of high executive ability and was highly trusted by his employers.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Adams, one daughter, Mrs. James Schnellbach, his mother, Mrs. Mary Adams of Knoxville, three sisters, Miss Margaret Adams, of Knoxville, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, of Carrick, Mrs. Rachel Getty of Pittsburg and four brothers, James Adams, of Pittsburg, Samuel Adams of Savannah, Ga., Hugh Adams of Charleroi and John Adams of Knoxville. The deceased was a member of the Marion Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, and a member of the Charleroi Turn Verein.

The Macbeth-Evans plant here out of respect closed today at noon and will remain closed until Monday. Macbeth-Evans workers will have charge of the funeral and the pall bearers will be six department managers, A. H. Bosson, W. S. James, W. D. Pollock, W. A. Miksch, Joseph Hockendower and H. A. Heupel. The guard of honor will consist of Macbeth foremen.

The body will be taken to Monongahela by hearses and carriages will be provided for the immediate relatives and friends. Persons who wish

PHYSICIANS WILL BE REQUESTED TO BE MORE CAREFUL IN REPORTING CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Board of Health Will Not Permit Any Dereliction in Matter Hereafter, But Will Call in State Aid

The Board of Health last night at a meeting took up a case of where a physician had failed to report a case of contagious disease to the board so that the place might be quarantined. Action was taken to the effect that all physicians be notified to promptly inform the health board, when they have contagious diseases under their care and in case of any dereliction in this respect Dr. Dixon, State Health Commissioner will be informed and action taken.

Health Officer Darby made his report. In the town there are the following cases of contagious diseases: Scarlet fever, 5; diphtheria, 4; chicken pox 6, and typhoid fever 7. Complaints received and nuisances abated, 85.

ELKS WILL HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES

Congressman Cole of Ohio Will be the Chief Speaker.

Congressman Ralph Cole will be the chief speaker at the Elks' Memorial service Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Coyle Theatre. There will be special music furnished by the Elks' Chorus, under Prof. Daniels. The memorial service will doubtless be more than unusually sad or account of the death of William Adams. While he did not belong to this lodge he was intimately connected with members here.

Hopton.

Jesse E. Hopton, 39 years old, died at his home at Speers Thursday of tuberculosis, from which he had been a sufferer for four years. He is survived by his wife and five children, the eldest a boy of 12. The funeral was held at 9 a. m. this morning in the Speers M. E. church, Rev. H. E. Lewis officiating, assisted by Rev. W. F. Seiter, a former pastor. The body was taken on the 11 a. m. train to Gray's Landing for burial. Mr. Hopton was one of Speers' most respected citizens, and had served on the council and the school board and had been a trustee of the M. E. church and superintendent of the Sunday school.

Working on Lock.

Work is being continued on another section of the double concrete lock, being constructed at Brownsville. The employees of the War Department are at work now on the power house. This will be constructed entirely of concrete. The work of putting on the large high gates was finished last week.

to go to the cemetery may leave on the 2:45 car or the 2:42 train.

Deputy Coroner M. T. Crowley has arranged for a coroner's inquest to be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at his office. A jury will be called, and all witnesses heard. In all probability the verdict will be to hold Kinney.

Mr. Adams made a verbal statement on Thursday before the operation in the presence of Burgess George W. Risbeck, County Detective McCleary, Chief of Police Albright, Dr. Edwin McKay, Dr. L. W. Swope, and Dr. J. B. Barth. He said that he did not know of any grudge held against him by Kinney.

DID NOT SAY HE WOULD RETIRE

"Bill" Phillips, Veteran Player Has Not Considered Any Offer

"Bill" Phillips, last year manager of the Wheeling team of the Central League team, has branded as unfounded the report that he will retire from baseball. The report was circulated no doubt in Wheeling. The Wheeling club has been negotiating with Phillips relative to managing next year's team, but he has not given any definite answer and in reality has not thought much of the matter. The reason assigned for his retirement in the report was the poor condition of his wife's health.

Mr. Phillips stated yesterday afternoon that while his wife's health was poor, it has been so for some years, and if there was no change for the worse he expected to be in baseball for some years yet. He said that he would not consider any propositions for managing or playing with any team until the first of the year, but as far as Wheeling was concerned he would just as willingly sign with them as any other team offering like conditions.

The Wheeling people are hot after Phillips because of the fact that last year he landed them the pennant in the Central league.

WILL HOLD SPECIAL SERVICE FOR MEN

Special men's services will be held Sunday afternoon by Evangelists Hendrick and Carter at the Washington avenue church at 3 o'clock. Dr. Hendrick will preach on the topic, "The Manhood That Wins," and Mr. Carter will have charge of the song service. Special music will be furnished by a Male Chorus, and the Washington Avenue Male Quartet.

"Out in Idaho."

With a cast entirely adequate to the requirements of the play, headed by Miss Robison who assumes the role of "Little Bess," Frederick N. Brush's production of "Out in Idaho" is to be seen at the Coyle Theatre this afternoon and evening and Miss Robison's work in character study for several seasons past has given her a unique position in the theatrical world, having appeared in such pieces as "Pretty Peggy," "The Girl from the Golden West," "The Girl from the Emerald Isle," "Way Down East" etc. but as "Little Bess" in "Out in Idaho" she has a part which gives her remarkable opportunity for the display of her splendid talents.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who showed so many kindnesses and who so generously tendered their sympathy during the sickness and death of our daughter, Mrs. Flora Hazel Fram.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reeve of Fallstown avenue spent yesterday in Greensburg, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Vance, near Carmichael.

EVANGELIST THINKS WE LACK EARNESTNESS

Evangelist Hendrick preached on the subject "God's Call to Service", at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church last night, being listened to by the largest crowd that has yet been present at the service. Mr. Carter conducted an interesting song service. In his sermon, Dr. Hendrick said that Paul's Macedonian call was the result of Paul's earnestness in prayer, and desire to help. He emphasized the fact if we were all so much in earnest for saving lost souls, we could not keep from helping.

Several members of the Little Redstone Presbyterian church, where Evangelist Hendrick and Carter were recently, were here to attend last night's service.

JUNIOR LEAGUE HOLDS A BANQUET

The Junior League of the Methodist Episcopal church last night held a reception and banquet in the Sunday School rooms for the members of the league. There were about 85 present. Miss Florence Crill, the superintendent of the league, had charge of the affair, and the children were provided an enjoyable evening. Games of a various nature were played. The little folks before adjournment joined in the singing of several hymns. They were served refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy.

Big Crowds Attend.

Large crowds of eager buyers have been in attendance at the rummage sale held by the ladies of the First Christian church in the rooms overlooking on Fallowfield avenue, next to the lockup. Before the opening yesterday people were lined up at the doors, and several times since more help had to be secured. Many families have taken advantage of the sale to lay in a winter's supply of reasonable garments, and a big sale is anticipated this evening.

It is stated that by the first of 1911 in the neighborhood of 3,000 coke ovens, will be in operation in the vicinity of Brownsville. There will probably be needed for these 20,000 men. Brownsville is anticipating great industrial developments within the next year. Already it boasts of being quite a railroad center, and is the location of the main offices of the Monongahela Railroad, which although one of the smallest roads in the country, handles more traffic than roads many times as large.

Not Informed This Morning of Superintendent Adams' Death

SON HAS SCARLET FEVER

Charge of Murder Not Preferred Against Man Who Inflicted Fatal Wounds

According to information received from Washington this morning it is feared that Thomas L. Kinney, the man who shot and fatally wounded William Adams, will lose his mind. Kinney is now in jail, and it is said, nearing a nervous breakdown. He has not been informed of Mr. Adams' death yet, but will some time today. It is feared that he will become completely unbalanced at this time.

District Attorney Acheson this morning said that he would not enter any formal charge of murder against Kinney today but that the case would probably reach the grand jury through the coroner's inquest.

Mr. Kinney's 6-year-old son at Donora is afflicted with scarlet fever.

Mahomet Can't Go.

So far as vehicle traffic from Charleroi with the up-river district is concerned, conditions are similar to those in the ancient joke about a fence not being needed around a cemetery: Those who are in can't get out, and those who are out don't want to get in. The only difference is that those who are out and want to drive into Charleroi can't get in, while those who are in are here to stay fast enough.

The statement of a Charleroi councilman that some attention should be paid to getting out of Charleroi as well as getting people in to trade calls attention to one of the vital needs of the town. While some lines of business are confined exclusively to the town, others are capable of expansion if delivery and soliciting wagons can be operated in the adjacent territory. The upriver district is a most fertile field for extending the many branches of trade from Charleroi, but the condition of the roads precludes its profitable operation, and much business is thus lost to the town. It is therefore a case of Mahomet not being able to go to the mountain.

One of the Perils.

In the death of William Adams, superintendent of the Macbeth-Evans Glass factory, is demonstrated one of the perils of modern industry. Shot down in the prime of vigorous and useful manhood by a former employe because, so far as known, of fancied grievances, Mr. Adams sacrificed his life in his devotion to duty. Like all captains of industry he was obliged to maintain a strict discipline with the large force of employes he directed, and in doing so, without the exercise of partiality so far as lay in his power, it was inevitable that he should incur the personal enmity of some. This is one of the responsibilities and risks that every large director of men must face, and that it is a daily menace is shown in this deplorable case.

No one knew this better than Mr. Adams who, with every large employer of labor, must accept this peril. That he bore no malice to the man who so foully murdered him is evidenced by his personal friendship for the latter in social circles. Like all successful captains of industry he did not carry his business affairs into his private life, and was consequently unprepared for the fate that overtook him at that particular time, although always aware that it was imminent. That he calmly accepted these perils is evidenced of his capability and courage.

Mr. Adams was one of thousands who daily risk their lives in the discharge of duty. That he was capable, efficient and courageous is attested by the position he held and maintained for years. His untimely death is a distinct loss in the world of achievement, as well as a deep sorrow to his family and friends.

Save the Coal.

That the coal operators of this section are alive to the necessity of the conservation of their supply is evidenced by the movement on foot to prevent the great waste in mining that is annually experienced. Competent engineers estimate that in mining 400,000,000 tons in 1908 the enormous amount of 250,000,000 tons was wasted and can never be recovered.

This waste, it is claimed, is due to the insufficient means of transportation and distribution. There are always rush periods in the demand for coal at certain season of the year, and never enough available cars on the railroads to furnish transportation. To meet these intermittent demands more mines are opened and operated than are necessary to supply the same amount of coal if the demand were steady the year around. This rush entails wasteful and hurried methods that could be avoided if all the operators could work together and take care of the demand to the best advantage. To this end application will be made to President Taft to aid a scheme to enable the operators to regulate the production. This is entirely in the interests of conserving the coal supply of the country, at which is being abnormally wasted in the unbusiness like methods of production at the present time. It is a project that deserves attention.

No Time For Retreat.

In an Irish garrison town a theatrical company was giving performances, and some soldiers from the local barracks were engaged to act as superns. Their duties included the waging of a fierce fight in which, after a stirring struggle, one army was defeated on a given signal from the prompter. For a few nights all went well, but on the Friday evening a special performance of the piece was to be given under the patronage of the colonel and other officers of the garrison. The two armies met as usual at the end of the second act, when they fought and fought and kept on fighting, regardless of the agonized glare in the eye of their actor general, who hoarsely ordered the proper army to "Retreat, confound you." But the fight still went on, and soon the horrified manager saw the wrong army being driven slowly off the stage, still fighting desperately. Down came the curtain amid roars of laughter, and the fuming manager hastened to ask the delinquents why they had failed to retreat on hearing the signal.

"Retraite," roared a burly fusilier whose visage had been badly battered, "and is it retraite ye'd have us, wid the colonel and all the officers in the boxes?"—London Scraps.

Commendable Economy.

In keeping with the spirit of the times the Secretary of the Treasury has scaled down his estimate of appropriations for next year which he submitted to Congress yesterday. This estimate is $123,000,000 less than the estimates submitted for 1910 a year ago and $103,000,000 less than the appropriations made last year.

While this retrenchment is not so very large, considered Nationally, the proportion carried on down all the way through the State, the county, the borough, the township and individually, will accomplish wonders. The era of extravagance which is sapping the National vitality must be checked in some manner and the National Government does well to set the example.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

In Charleroi it rained on bridge Celebration day—good and hard. In Monongahela it rained the day after bridge celebration—good and hard.

If custom house tips are barred. The employees will be expected to be from this time forth harsh and sullen, and the people happy.

Trade is said to crowd J. Pierpont Morgan. He ought to see some Charleroi stores.

Apparently dreams accomplish wonders some times. However, we haven't heard of anyone saving an ocean liner by dreaming about a possible wreck.

A New York man is credited with eating a card in a sandwich. A good many of us are compelled to eat our words, yet we gain little notoriety over it.

Send this to your family for the Christmas season.

There is a great deal of talk about the coming of the new year. It is said that the new year will be a year of peace and prosperity. It is said that the new year will be a year of love and happiness. It is said that the new year will be a year of success and achievement. It is said that the new year will be a year of hope and faith. It is said that the new year will be a year of joy and gladness.
